Summer is in full swing. As our own schedules and the ones of our family, friends and neighbors shift in this time of year—it is my hope and prayer that you find opportunities for rest and to be present.

In these weeks our family is spending time with our wider family, with friends, and even a little time away on spiritual retreat.

And yet, even when talking with my brother, or in the moments before bed...the phone in my pocket still calls to me.

———————————————————

There is a joke I heard some months ago which has stayed with me. It refers to an office worker stuck in the same routine and it goes something like this:

I can't wait to be done staring at medium screen so that I can get home and watch large screen while scrolling on small screen.

In other words, "once I'm done on the computer at work, I'll go home and watch tv while scrolling on my phone."

In a world that is constantly busy it can be hard to set our phones down, turn off the talk show and be present.

Our minds race toward the next things to do, the problem to solve, the contingency to plan for. But just as children need food and rest to grow...so we need more than endless tasks and "optimized" routines.

What might God be inviting you into this season? If it is to be present, what does that look like?

Could it be taking a walk? Or baking some cookies? Could it be watching the birds (yes!) or writing a letter to a friend?

Could it be working on a puzzle or making up a story with your grandchild?

The Gospel for the last Sunday of July reminds us how God is present in unexpected places.

Jesus put before the crowds another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed that someone took and sowed in his field; it is the smallest of all the seeds, but when it has grown it is the greatest of shrubs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and make nests in its branches."

He told them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed in with three measures of flour until all of it was leavened." -Matthew 13

If we are mining for (immediate!!) dopamine on our phones, or hurriedly carrying out endless tasks we might miss it: How God shows up in the grey catbird, how the Spirit is showing us something as the breeze moves over the dandelions, how God is present in you as you make muffins and wonder who you could share them with.

In Christ,

Pastor Mathew

Notes from the Organ Bench

It is August and normally my thoughts are rushing to fall and the ending of summer activities and beginning of a new school/singing year. But that is not where I am right now. As usual, there is a song running through my mind. Lately it is:

> When peace like a river, attendeth my way,
> When sorrows like sea billows roll;
> Whatever my lot, Thou hast taught me to say
> It is well, it is well, with my soul.

It is well, it is well with my soul… The words to this hymn were written by Horatio Spafford, first published in 1876.

In 1871 he lost a young son, and then his finances in the Great Chicago Fire. Stafford was a successful lawyer and invested in real estate which was badly damaged. In 1873 he lost more when the economy dipped. In November 1873, he decided to travel to England with his wife and four daughters to help with Dwight L. Moody's evangelical campaigns. However, in a last-minute change of plans, he sent his family and stayed behind taking care of business. He intended to join them later.

As the family was crossing the Atlantic Ocean on the SS Ville du Havre, it collided with another sea vessel. The ship immediately sank, killing 226 people, including his four daughters. Survivors, including his wife, were taken to Cardiff, England. From there she sent a telegram to her husband which stated, "Saved alone."

He immediately boarded a ship to England and the inspiration for the song came when his ship passed near the spot where his daughters had died. "It is well, it is well with my soul."

July has been a difficult month for my family. My husband's sister, Doris Brailsford, suffered with Alzheimer's disease. Most of my Sundays away during the past few years have been to travel to NC to visit with her and her family. In June we had a good visit. Though she could no longer walk, she was able to attend and sing along with my sing-along at the facility. I was able to coax her to eat a few bites of food, and John, my husband, spent some time talking to her. She may not have known who we were, but we were happy to be able to interact.

On July 1, just before 11 pm, after a week of "nothingness" she slipped quietly away. When her husband was informed the next morning, he said that he already knew. I am convinced that she visited him as she left. We will be away in August for the celebration of her life.

Our journey on this earth is short and full of difficulties. They seem to come like waves ("When sorrows like sea billows roll") and we ride through each one. There have been a number of tears shed lately, but a number of happy memories have come right after. Through our faith we will get through this. As Horatio Stafford perfectly wrote: "Whatever my lot, Thou hast taught me to know [say], it is well, it is well with my soul."

Keep making a joyful noise,

Martha

Food Pantry Critical Need!

The food pantry at Christus Victor Lutheran Church, Victor's Vittles, is serving 30-40 families each week. Summers are tough and their shelves are bare. Please help if you are able.

Items needed are: canned fruit, cereal & oatmeal, jelly, peanut butter, pasta sauce, spaghetti noodles, Raman noodles, mac & cheese, beef stew, pancake mix & syrup, instant potatoes, canned meals.

You can drop your donations off at St. John's and we will deliver them to the food pantry. Just a note...regular size items are best because everything has to fit into one bag.

Thank you so much for your continued support of our neighborhood food pantry!

MARK YOUR CALENDARS!
St. John's Annual Christmas Bazaar
Saturday, November 14th
9:00 am–2:00 pm

Please Note...We are now collecting jewelry for the jewelry table at the Christmas Bazaar. You can give your jewelry to Vickie Jasinski on Sunday mornings or bring it to the church office. We are also collecting items for the White Elephant room. Please donate gently used and clean items. Call the church office if you have things to donate. No donations will be accepted the week of the bazaar!

Thank you,

Busy Bees/Christmas Bazaar Committee

2026-2027 Community Meals

Hello St. John's friends ❤️. I hope everyone has been enjoying their summer so far ~whether you are soaking up the hot sun on vacation, enjoying time with family and friends, reading a book by the pool, binge watching Netflix (a lot of good shows and movies out right now), relaxing with a nice cold beverage in your hand, or simply doing just nothing! I can't believe we are about to start the 4th year of our community meals. I feel like I can't say this enough but thank you all so much for helping to support our community meals and making them go so smoothly. It seems like both our St. John's folks and our surrounding community really enjoy these meals and the fellowship- the crowd keeps growing 😊.

"Good food brings people together and nourishes the soul"

We would like to continue with our sign-up system to be more prepared ahead of time. Therefore, within the next few weeks, I am going to post a sheet on the third-floor bulletin board for all the months and dates of the upcoming meals (as I did last year). If you, your family, or any of our committees/groups would like to plan and share your favorite meal with our community, please fill out the information on the sheet for the month that you have chosen.

Kitchen Managers:

1. Robin Dibley
2. Judy Jasinski
3. Lou Carletti
4. Vickie Jasinski

*If you would like to become a certified kitchen manager, please contact me. We can always use more backups!

Thank you,

ST. JOHN'S VBS 2026

We had another great week of VBS fun and fellowship with 59 children and over 30 volunteers as we learned to find strength in God!

thank you

To . . .

- Pastors Mathew & Amy for their support of our ministry
- All of our many gracious volunteers and staff who shared so much of their time and talents before, during, and after VBS. An extra shoutout to our decorating crew who made our spaces look fantastic!
- Our church congregation for their continued generosity in donating snacks and supplies for our program.
- And an extra shoutout to Pastors Amy & Mathew and Ollie for our openings and closings each day and to Matthew Miller for bringing Ollie to life and such joy to the children!
